

Comparison of restituted parameters using Eikonal method with different integration approaches compared to the Snell Descartes method as reference in function of the integration step

