Dear Drs. Koren and Ginsburg:

Elsevier journal authors retain the right to use or re-use portions or excerpts in other works, subject to proper acknowledgement; see <https://www.elsevier.com/about/our-business/policies/copyright/personal-use>. As this is a retained right, no written permission is necessary to reuse two figures from your prior Clinical Immunology Newsletter article in a forthcoming Critical Reviews in Microbiology manuscript provided that the material is not credited to any third party and that the original source is properly acknowledged.

If you have additional questions or I may be of further assistance, please let me know.

Best regards,

Hop

Dear Hop,

Hope this email finds you well.

Prof Ginsburg and myself are submitting a review manuscript to "Critical Reviews in Microbiology" and want to use two old figures previously published by Prof Ginsburg (figures 1a 1b)

Original manuscript details:

Ginsburg I, Lahav M. How are bacterial cells degraded by leukocytes in vivo? An enigma. Clinical Immunology Newsletter. 1983;4 (11) :147-153.

What is the right way to do it?

Thank you for your assistance

Erez Koren and Isaac Ginsburg
